MR WENDELL PHILLPS recently made a terrific assault upon Mr. Greeley and the bailment of Mr. Davis. Mr. Greeley responds by quoting from several of Mr. Phillips's speeches, made during the last two years, in which he scoffs and scouts at the idea of bringing Mr. Davis to trial and punishment. This exposition is most damaging to Mr. Phillips's character, because it shows that in order to gratify his personal hatred of Mr. Greeley, he denied his own convictions and utterances, and stimulated an indignation he did not feel. Mr. Phillips stands self-convicted of deplorable dishonesty. He is not the only conspicuous man, engaged in hatcheling Mr. Greeley, who is thus demonstrating that he is an unblushing Knave.

THE EDITOR of the Portage (Wisconsin) State Register takes a new view of the question of Women Voting. He says that for a number of years regularly he has paid considerable sums of money for teams to haul indifferent, lazy or crippled men to the polls; and he thinks it would be decidedly preferable to get up a horse and buggy and escort young ladies to the voting places. Clearly the romance has not been taken out of that fellow yet.

THE Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company have purchased the Susquehanna and West Branch Canals. It is the intention of the Company to deepen and improve this line, and use it to assist the railroads in getting the immense lumber trade to market. The lumbermen of Williamsport are hampered and their business curtailed to some extent, in consequence of the inability of the railroads to supply cars enough to ship their lumber.

THE impeachment bubble is about to burst. If Mr. Williams, of the Judiciary Committee, is in favor of abandoning the case, as reported, the country may well rest assured that there are no legal grounds for action in the premises. At all events, the people will rest easier since the mysterious "proofs" supposed to have been in the keeping of the members of the Committee are discovered to be of no importance.

THE REV. JOEL LINDSLEY, who whipped his child to death because it did not say the Lord's Prayer to suit him, has been tried at Albion, N. Y., the jury failing to agree. He then plead guilty to manslaughter in the fourth degree, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $250. Excellent encouragement is thus afforded to that brutality in the discipline of children which is the fashion.

FLOUR HAS already gone off $3 a barrel from the highest point reached. Favorable as the prospects are for the wheat crop, it is quite likely some local damages will be seized upon by the speculators to raise anew the cry that the country is on the brink of starvation. People should always remember that in so extensive a country the failure of a crop can never be general.

THE Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company are substituting Nicholson Wooden Pavement for Cobble-Stone Pavement in front of their offices in this city. At the West and Southwest this new pavement is highly popular. At Cincinnati, we notice, that 4,955 feet of it have just been completed, and 8,450 feet more ordered to be put down immediately.

THE Associated Press agents ought to hurry up. They frequently send to this city news that reached it by mail two days before. Last week they sent very late one night dispatches that appeared in the early afternoon editions of the Philadelphia and New York journals. Gentlemen! you must do better.

JUDGE KELLEY has returned from the South, and, singular as it may seem, has formed a pleasant opinion of the country and people, in which and among whom he has been doing political missionary service. He announces his intention of returning to Virginia to address the people of that State.

THE Liberals are getting matters pretty much their own way in Mexico. The City of Mexico is reported and believed to be in their possession, and the supposition was that Vera Cruz could not hold out many days. Wherever the Liberals get the upper-hand they make terrible reprisals.

ALEXANDER, Czar of Russia, has arrived in Paris, and it is said will extend his visit to London. Cannot our citizens in Europe prevail upon him visiting America, to join the excursion party about forming for a visit to the new territory he so generously sold us.

GENERAL JOHN EATON, editor of the Memphis Post, is a candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction in Tennessee. He was a teacher before he was an editor, and has proved himself excellent in each vocation. We shall be glad to chronicle his success.

REBEL SOLDIERS, at Danville, Va., thanked Mr. Kelley for his address, saying they heartily desired reconstruction. Those rebels who were not soldiers, and never mean to be, were disposed to resist reconstruction on the terms proposed.

THE Lincoln University for the education of negroes at Oxford, Pa., is in a flourishing condition. Nearly all of the Southern States are represented by scholars. South Carolina alone has eight pupils in attendance.

THE Cincinnati Commercial thinks that the Republicans of Ohio will settle down on Gen. RUTHERFORD B. HAYES, of that city, member of Congress for the Second District, as their candidate for Governor.

THE Albany Evening Journal breaks ground in favor of General Grant for President in 1868. A good many indications warrant the conclusion that he is most likely to be the candidate.

IT IS ANNOUNCED that the Brazilian Government has determined to prosecute war upon Paraguay, and rejects the proffered mediation of the United States.

THE Board of Health and authorities of New York are vigorously at work improving the sanitary condition of that city, in anticipation of the cholera.

RUSSIA has done a noble act in granting general amnesty to the Poles engaged in the last insurrection.

—Minister Clay is now negotiating with the Russian Fur Company for their forts and warehouses, so that another million is to be added to the debt for Alaska. There is something yet to pay to keep this territory in order, but sufficient for the day is the evil thereof. We have an elephant of undoubted value upon our hands in the purchase of our extra Russian empire, and let us make the most of it.

—There is in progress now in Georgetown a southern relief fair, which is noted more for the extreme anti-Union feeling prevailing than for anything else. Red white and red colors are extensively worn, and southern airs are almost exclusively played by the band.

—The Church Union has a leading editorial on the recent Massachusetts scandal. We republish the same in full: "Sereno Howe, John S. T."

—Count Schwabe has given his collection of portraits of Union heroes to the State of Massachusetts, on condition that it shall be kept as a free public gallery.

—Sophie Worrell, the actress, now playing at New York, received a boquet the other night which contained $3,000, a diamond brooch and a pair of earrings.

—Wm. B. Astor, of New York, owns real estate valued at $65,000,000. But he suffers with the dyspepsia and with the burdens of his immense business, so that he looks like an unhappy man.

—H. Rives Pollard was to deliver his lecture on the "Chivalry of the South" in Lynchburg, Virginia, on the evening came, he announced to empty benches that the lecture would be indefinitely postponed.

—A correspondent of a literary weekly thinks that Mr. Grant White's recent contributions to the magazines "prove that he is pretty much in literature what Wendell Phillips is in politics—a confirmed scold."

—John Morrissey has been visiting his old chums in Troy. During his stay John was waited upon by a delegation from a church society, which solicited aid in paying off the church debt. They didn't succeed, however.

—An extraordinary piece of news is current in Paris that a high military officer is under arrest, accused of treasonable practices, and in particular of having betrayed to Prussia the French plan of a campaign in case of war.

—Count Bismarck suffers terribly from a nervous disease which prevents him from sleeping. To recover some sleep he gets on a horse at one o'clock at night and rides till four o'clock, returns home, goes to bed and sleeps five hours.

—A New Orleans paper says of Henry Ward Beecher: Beecher taught at the Bullard school under the old church in Lafayette square, New Orleans, in 1841 and 1842. One of the editorial corps of the Crescent attended Beecher's school.

—The Pall Mall Gazette says that Mr. Tilt's miniature of Queen Victoria, presented to Mr. Peabody, is a caricature of that excellent lady, making her look "like a fat, red-faced, cross school girl of eighteen, looking rather old for her age."

—Henry Hezeltine, a young American sculptor, now in Rome, is executing for the Union League Club of Philadelphia a colossal figure of America twining wreaths of laurel and immortelles for her children fallen in the late war—a bold and elegant composition.

—The Army and Navy Journal has an ingenious way of calling a man a liar. In speaking of General Baker, it describes him as "one of these decorative men who make it a point of honor to never let a story lose anything by passing through their artistic hands."

—Gen. D. N. Couch has got tired of being beaten out of sight as the Democratic candidate for Governor of Massachusetts, and has accepted the Presidency of a mining and manufacturing company that has recently purchased 60 square miles of mineral land in Virginia.

—The true name of Henry F. Durant, of Boston, the eminent lawyer-preacher, is plain Smith. When he married he reversed the usual order and took his wife's name in consideration of a handsome fortune. Judge Smith, who preaches with him sometimes, is his brother.

Now we are in the daily habit of hearing the most fulsome praises of this great Prince; and so successful is success, that even the journals, which once took a fairer and juster measure of his capacity, are now, simply by force of the fact that he sleeps nightly at the Tuileries, disposed to accord him all the prescience of a statesman, and all the skill of a great General.

I declare I have an ardent desire always to agree with the people around me. I am never so well pleased as when I can concur with a prevailing opinion, and I'm not sure that I wouldn't rather put a little mild coercion on my conscience than dissent from the judgments of "the company." But here I own I cannot. I could no more believe in the greatness of Louis Napoleon than in spirit rapping. Our credulity is sorely taxed in England; we have to believe Lord Palmerston a wit, and Mr. Cobden a sage; we have to swallow Carlyle's English, and affect to like it, and when I land at Dover I do each and all of these things. I prefer the mutton-chop at the Lord Warden to my little dinner at the Cadran Rouge. I like the red-petticoated damsels in the Bal-moral boots better than the trimmest Parisian ankles; I go in to admire Buckstone and bitter beer, and all that is English; but—and this I resist to the death—nothing shall persuade me that the Emperor of the French is other than a third-rate man, who might have possibly distinguished himself as a police functionary or a solicitor, but has as much claim to high statecraft as a police functionary on the Pentateuch. Let any of us humble folk only enjoy that nice privilege I have just spoken of—let us only sell what doesn't belong to us—and what a snug little competency we should lay up for our declining years! His last coup of this kind was the Franco-Italian treaty. This time it is indeed a very choice lot he submits to public competition. "No reserve, gentlemen. His Holiness must be knocked down to the highest bidder, for the place is already disposed of to the 'party next door.'" What a condition for a Pope! Garibaldi's Hymn thundering at the Vaticlan! infallibility going, one may say, for a song!

Austria would like, if she dared, to made a bid. She would like better still to protest against the sale, but how can she? The Pope was not true to the Holy Roman Empire once before, and he can not be trusted; besides, Austria is weak. Cornelius O'Dowd in Blackwood's.

No accurate estimate can now be made, out the loss will not fall short of $75,000. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. By great exertions the American Hotel and two adjoining buildings were saved. A heavy rain is now falling, which will much damage goods removed from the burning buildings.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has been informed by the Superintendent at Fort Leavenworth that the American Express Company has received orders from employees on the Smoky Hill route to Denver to this effect: "Every indian within shooting distance is to be shot, and no mercy, they will show some to you." He also states that General Hancock has ordered "Every indian found in the vicinity of the North Arkansas and South Platte Rivers to be shot." He was aiding a Union prisoner to escape, and if he had not killed him he would have killed his master himself. The general has ordered investigation.

BANKRUPTCY RULES.

There is reliable authority for stating that the delays in the appearance of the general orders and forms in Bankruptcy is entirely owing to the corrections found necessary since the adjournment of the Court, in order to make them as perfect as possible, and as no authority was left with the clerk by the court to make such correction, the Justices, who had gone to their respective circuits, had to be consulted at the interval in several other very important changes in the rules have been suggested by various Judges, and others may have been made before the work is complete or any part of it issued to the different districts. No one has any authority to create an impression that the same can be furnished until perfect.

burgh Gazette

MONDAY, JUNE 3, 1867.

THE Dispatch, on Saturday, advanced nothing pertinent to the matter under discussion. As we have no inclination to compete with it in billingsgate, we rest.

WHEN the Presbyterian General Assembly (Old School) at Cincinnati, came to a vote on re-union, the result was such as to check precipitancy. The vote stood 63 for, and 144 against re-union. Seventy members were absent. Had they been present the proportion, it is estimated, would have been about the same. Still, it was resolved to continue the Union Committee; ask the churches to continue the matter for another year without being embarrassed one way or another by the expression from the Assembly, and to send the results, through the Standing Committee, to the next Assembly. The latter may then act definitely on the proposition. If the next Assembly shall adopt the measure, the adoption will have to be ratified by three-fourths of all the Presbyteries.

UNION OF THE ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC.

No grander enterprise was ever undertaken by man than the connection of the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of this continent by railroad. The main line is designed to run from Omaha to Sacramento, and never was work pursued with greater energy or skill. On the western side, the road is in running order nearly or quite to the summit of the Sierra Nevada. On the eastern side it is rapidly reaching the longitude of Denver, which it will pass above one hundred and fifty miles to the North, but reaching it by means of a branch. On the plain of Utah the two lines will join hands and make one.

Of course there are serious natural obstacles to overcome. But engineering ability will triumph. The unprecedented flood of this Spring occasioned a temporary interruption in the valley of the Platte, such as roads anywhere are liable to; but no more. The Indians are just now, by their warlike movements, interfering somewhat. But still the work goes on. Whatever may befall, it is safe to conclude the whole line will be completed inside of five years.

The road from Sacramento down to San Francisco is progressing finely, and will be in operation long before the midland sections are united; so that within five years at the outside, the transit from New York to San Francisco will be made by cars.

Our venerable friend GEN. ROBINSON, of Allegheny, was the first Anglo-Saxon male child born west of the Ohio. His stately mansion in the heart of the city occupies the site of his father's log cabin. He flourishes in a vigorous old age. It is marvellous to think that all the development of population, wealth and comfort, between the Allegheny river and the Pacific coast has happened during the life of this man! This prodigy mounts almost to the proportions of a miracle. There is no counterpart to it to be found in the tide of time. God speed the Union Pacific Railroad!

THE LUMBER REGION OF THE ALLEGHENY.

The Allegheny Valley Railroad is now finished to Brady's Bend, and will soon be completed to Franklin, at which place it will be brought into connection with the various roads that traverse the Oil Region. This will be of immense advantage to this city and to the entire country through which the Alleghany flows.

That road will give us a connection with the oil region, and with much of the iron region; but not with the lumber region. From French Creek, which enters the river at Franklin, to Pittsburgh, not a single navigable stream flows in from the west side. For the greater part of its course the Allegheny flows near to the western border of its own valley, receiving almost all its tributary streams from the broad watershed stretching from it to the dividing ridge that separates its waters from those of the Susquehanna. The principal of these streams are

2. The Clarion, which rises in Potter county, and, after a course of nearly two hundred miles, enters the Allegheny about midway between Kittanning and Franklin. This river is good for descending navigation for upwards of a hundred miles. On the upper waters there are immense tracts of pine forest.

3. Redbank creek.—This fine navigable stream rises in Clearfield county, and thence flows across all of Jefferson county, and for some twenty miles forms the boundary line between Armstrong and Clarion, and unites with the Allegheny about twenty miles above Kittanning. Its upper waters, like those of the Clarion, flow through a fine lumber region, vast quantities of which has been cut and floated down to market. The Indian name of this stream was Mohulbuctetum.

4. The Mahoning.—This stream, which is but little smaller than the Redbank, drains the southern part of Jefferson county and the northern part of Indiana, flows through Armstrong, and enters the Allegheny two miles above Kittanning. It, too, is navigable, and large quantities of lumber are floated down from its upper streams.

5. Cowanshannock. — This stream comes in from the western border of Indiana county, and after a course of some twenty miles through Armstrong, meets the river three miles above Kittanning. About three miles above its mouth it comes within about a mile of Kittanning, from which it is separated by a low and narrow ridge. This stream is not navigable, nor are there any pine forests on its head waters.

6. Crooked Creek—so named because it is very crooked. This is a large stream, but is not navigable.

7. The Kiskiminetas.—This is the Conemaugh, along the banks of which the Pennsylvania Canal runs so many miles. At the mouth of the Loyalhannah, at Saltsburg, the name changes from Conemaugh to Kiskiminetas. Before the Pennsylvania Canal was made small flatboats occasionally descended from Johnstown, carrying down iron from the forges that used to be there. This was in the early part of the century. It is naturally a rough and rapid stream. No lumber was ever floated down either in rafts or boats. Except the Clarion, this is probably the largest tributary of the Allegheny.

The pine forests, for which the Allegheny is famous, and from which such enormous quantities of lumber are annually floated down, are all found from twenty to upwards of a hundred miles east of the main river. The best are on the upper branches of the first four tributaries we have named. Near the navigable waters the quantity of white pine timber has been greatly reduced; but there are many thousands of acres covered with the finest quality of that most valuable of our timber too remote from navigable streams to warrant the cost of that mode of conveyance to market. The common roads are bad in that country, and nothing but railroad transportation is adequate to the work of carrying this lumber to market. It is greatly needed even now, and the inadequacy of [illegible] more and more felt from year to year.

A railroad through the upper ends of the valleys of the Mahoning, the Redbank and the Clarion, and terminate at the mouth of Bennet's Branch of the Sinnemahoning, on the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, is the only means by which these large resources of pine lumber can be reached. The Allegheny Valley Road, as originally surveyed, beyond the mouth of the Mahoning, would, with some variations—a more eastern bearing beyond Brookville—meet all the requirements here spoken of; but the newly projected road from Kittanning to Walnut Bend, via the valley of the Cowanshannock, and thence diagonally across the headwaters of Mahoning, Redbank and Clarion, into the valley of the Susquehanna—a pine region all the way except the first twenty-five miles beyond Kittanning—meets this great want still better than the other. A good charter for this road was authorized at the last session of the Legislature, and some stock has been subscribed. Whether sufficient means to build this road can be obtained at present remains to be seen.

Our object at present is merely to draw attention to the facts here stated, so that our men of capital may be induced to think of that region and its enormous undeveloped wealth, and calculate whether the enterprise of which we speak would be likely to pay.

THE SHEUBENVILLE Herald misconceives our position. The course neither of the President nor of Mr. GREELEY, touching the case of Mr. DAVIS, is to our mind. But we insist that the motives of each of those gentlemen shall be inferred from his general character and conduct. Furthermore, that however much censure may be awarded Mr. GREELEY, those who administer it ought to have some respect to their own personal dignity, as well as to his long and valuable services. To twit him, as our contemporary did, of dressing in old clothes, picked up at a second hand shop, is neither wit nor fact, but unadulterated blackguardism. We have known Mr. GREELEY many years, and have never seen him when he was not attired becoming his state as a gentleman. But, if the fact was otherwise, what has his clothes to do with views of public questions? Pickpockets ordinarily dress in the most fashionable style, and many an honest gentleman is constrained to wear such garments as he can get. The dirty assaults of the Republican press, which Mr. GREELEY properly characterized as "a shower of mud," have done more to disgrace journalism in this country, than the bailment of Mr. DAVIS has done damage to the national cause.

THE Memphis Post illustrates a good deal of the professed antipathy to colored people, by relating that the Sheriff of Henry county, in Tennessee, lately arrested a party of high-toned chivalry by calling to his aid a posse of colored men. The chivalry objected stoutly to such deputies, and felt themselves disgraced by the colored man being called upon to aid in their arrest. But it turned out that the crime for which they were arrested was going to a dance of colored people and committing crime upon the colored women.

TO-DAY is the municipal election at Washington. One of the democratic orators of that city, on the 29th ult., made this vulgar reference to the colored voters:

"Congress has seen fit, in the exercise of its power, to introduce a new class of voters into our community, the principal part of whom have no more identification with us than the African gorilla"—that is, a large MONKEY.

It is not probable many of them will be won by that style of courtship.

THE salaries of the Corresponding Secretaries and Treasurer of the American Baptist Missionary Union were fixed at the anniversary meeting at Chicago, at $2,500 each, per annum. Rather respectable wages out of Peter's pence.

Cholera—Progress of Practical Skill in Applying Disinfectants

Dr. Harris, in a letter to the President of the Board of Health, gives many interesting facts relating to the prevalence of cholera and the means devised to check its ravages. He says:

The employment of specific disinfectants of cholera excrement was commenced by us in this country at the quarantine hospitals on Staten Island in 1855. The first great lessons on the subject were taught by Dr. Wm. Budd, of the military barracks in Bristol, England, and by Professor Pettenkoter at the Koisheim prison in Isavaria, in 1854. Dr. Lander Lindsey, in a choleas hospital and in certain lunatic asylums in Scotland, added several facts to the same experience.

Certain soluble salts of iron, viz: the sulphates and chlorides which possess the power of arresting certain kinds of fermentation, and of destroying certain gases and products of putrefaction, continue to be the most trustworthy chemicals for the general purposes of disinfection. We first employed them in 1855 and 1856, because of their chemical qualities, and particularly because of the success that seemed to attend their employment by the great chemist, Prof. Pettenkofer. But these iron salts, and most other metallic salts, cannot well be used on the soiled clothing and bedding, nor do they act very permanently, for they may soak away, or may readily be changed into insoluble and inert substances. Hence, to meet the necessity for a powerful and most permanent and unchangeable antiseptic, resort is had to carbonic acid and the coal-tar compounds. Scientific chemists and experimenters, and all well-informed sanitary officers, now agree that saturated solutions of copperas and carbonic acid are at once the best and cheapest disinfectants that can be used against cholera.

The Metropolitan Board of Health was, as I believe, the first sanitary body to provide for disinfection as an essential and distinct branch of sanitary service. Glasgow soon followed, and in Southampton and Bristol, in England, the business was, in July last, done by trained heads, and with marvelous success. St. Louis has just organized a perfect system of disinfecting depots and sanitary care in the twelve wards of that much threatened city. In New Orleans, Nashville, Memphis, Chicago and several other cities the sanitary authorities are organizing the same good system. This system was first suggested by the Council of Hygiene, in this city, in October, 1865.

SUPPOSING that Lieut. General SHERMAN would be at New York to embark for Europe, gentlemen of that city tendered him a public reception. In reply he says:

HEADQUARTERS MILITARY DIVISION, }
ST. LOUIS, MO., MAY 25.

Gentlemen: I have had the honor to receive your valued letter of the 8th inst., inviting me to meet my friends in New York on the eve of my intended departure for Europe. As circumstances have occurred to prevent the fulfillment of that intention, it will not be in my power to accept the proffered honor, and it is fair that I should indicate in general terms why I have concluded to to remain at my post of duty.

You doubtless know that my military command embraces a vast region of wild country, which is being rapidly occupied by our people and across which are being built two railways destined in a few years to span the wide space between the Atlantic and Pacific States.

This country has been from time immemorial the homes and hunting grounds of various tribes of Indians, who still number some three hundred thousand souls, and who, being pressed from every quarter, have become nervous, excited, and, in some cases, positively hostile. At this moment there are fears that they may combine and do infinite mischief, and we have daily calls for protection at a hundred places, hundreds of miles from each other; and it requires our constant attention so to apportion our limited military force as to protect our most vital interests.

If I should leave my division at this very critical moment, my share of labor and responsibility will have to devolve on some other officer already overburdened; and after a careful consideration of the whole question, I feel bound, in duty and honor, to stand by my post, and to defer until some more opportune occasion the gratification of a natural desire to see other and older countries than our own.

I must, therefore, beg that you will excuse me for not accepting your invitation at the present time; but on some more propitious occasion in the future it will afford me pride and pleasure to meet you all in such manner as your kindness may indicate.

With sentiments of great respect, I am truly yours, W. T. SHERMAN,
Lieutenant General.

The Crop Reports.

NEW JERSEY.—With the exception of the damage done by the recent rains to the potato crop, which is probably not very serious, all reports from the agricultural regions of New Jersey are very favorable. At one time it was thought that the fruit crop had been nearly all destroyed by the severe cold, but this seems not to be the fact. Some of the peach buds have been killed, but an unusually good crop is anticipated, notwithstanding. In some of the lower portions of the State, the early strawberries were killed, but a good crop of this fine fruit is still promised. Each year additional land is appropriated to the culture of strawberries and the business proves to be quite remunerative.

KENTUCKY.—A correspondent of the Louisville Courier, in Jessamine county, reports that the corn that is up looks yellow and sickly, the oats short and pale, and is thought will be a failure. The wheat is still flourishing, and the fruit bids fair to be abundant. It has been rather dry and cold for oats; the corn will come out with favorable weather.

VIRGINIA.—The Richmond Whig gives the following satisfactory account of the condition of farming and business affairs in Virginia:

Crops and business prospects are more cheering than any we have had for the past two years. Labor is better organized than it has been since emancipation has been effected—the desolations of war have been repaired, and agricultural operations have, after much uncertainty, become adjusted to the extingencies and and necessities of the new era. The old rut has been abandoned, and a new rut has been opened.

All accounts from every quarter of the State represent that the wheat prospect is in the highest degree flattering. A large area of land is now green with it; the weather has been unusually favorable to its growth and exemption from disease and insects, and its present condition is such as to inspire the most sanguine hopes of an abundant yield.

The oat, corn, tobacco and root crops are expected to be large, and, barring contingencies, abundant and profitable. The fruit crop has escaped the frost, and promises a rich yield. The cool and unseasonable weather may curtail some crops, but upon the whole, as far as human foresight extends, it may be assumed that agriculturul prospects are more than usually encouraging.

THE WEST.—A correspondent of the Toledo Blade who has traveled extensively in the West, says:

The grasshoppers are working very lively in portions of Kansas, and north and west side of Missouri river, in Missouri. It will be some time before they fly, and no one can tell how far they will "invade" the country until they make a "strike" by their numerous "presences." Destruction to all green truck is their watchword, and slowly, but surely, they sadden the prospects of many farmers.

The Broadcast of Spring wheat is very large in Illinois, and it is looking well. The favorite corn crop will be extensively cultivated through Illinois. Numerous fields of wheat—from Keokuk, Iowa, travelling up the Missisippi—look very flattering indeed. Iowa can also boast of a very large area of spring wheat sown, and preparations for an extensive corn crop are going on. The timbered portion of Iowa can claim having some fine fields of winter wheat.

Nebraska needs rain, and like unto her sister, Kansas, will receive a grasshopper benefit. One hundred and eighty miles west of St. Louis, along the Pacific Railroad, is the best winter wheat that I have seen. Eastward, over the Terre Haute Railroad, the winter wheat looks promising, and much spring wheat has been sowed. The corn crop will be extensively cultivated. Nearing home, over the Dayton and Michigan Railroad, some very fair fields of winter wheat may be seen.

An English paper—the Durham Advertiser—tells this story.

"Mr. Tennyson has portrayed in language graphic and beautiful the vicissitudes and noble struggles of Enoch Arden on behalf of his wife, and the deep sorrow felt by that hero on his return home after an absence of years, on discovering that she had taken to herself another husband. A similar circumstance had transpired in this neighborhood, but the subjects of our story are not of the same high and lofty character as those depicted by the poet. It appears that about eleven years ago the husband of a Mrs. Watts, living at Dragon Villa, Gillesgate Moor, near this city, sailed for America in search of that wealth which he had failed to meet with in this country; and after gaining it he promised to return, so that he might live upon the fruits of his labors. However, from some unexplained cause or other, he forgot on his arrival among our go-ahead cousins across the Atlantic to communicate with his wife whom he had left behind, and the coffers of wealth which she had expected to hear of, it was feared, had sunk with her husband in the ocean.

Year after year passed away, and no tidings of Watts could be heard, and his wife and his two children had to struggle on as best they could. At the end of seven or eight years all hopes of his being in the flesh were given up, and a person by the name of Wallace turned up and wooed and won the neglected dame. They lived happily together for four years, and the partner of her first love was entirely forgotten. One day last week, however, Watts returned to his native place, but, unlike Enoch Arden, after ascertaining the change that had befallen his wife, did not cry for help to prevent him 'breaking in upon her peace.' He went boldly to the house and made himself known, but his appearance, it would seem, did not impress her very favorably, and the reception he met with was not of the kind which might have been expected.

"His wife, now Mrs. Wallace, as was natural, felt greatly startled at his appearance, but the interview which took place between them did not awaken any of the old feelings which first caused them to be made one, and she preferred keeping on with the new love and discarding the old. She had, however, some slight compassion for her delinquent lord, and told him that she would give him a meal of meat, a night's lodging, and set him off with a shilling in his pocket, which, said she, "is more than thou hast done for me for the last eleven years!" Not having gained too much of this world's goods in his wanderings, he accepted her generous offer and took shelter under her roof for the night. Cogitating upon his present condition, as he doubtless would when laid to sleep, but whether he got any or not, we have not heard—he appears to have resolved not to part with his wife without an effort, for on rising next morning he strongly asserted his claim, which terminated in his summary ejection from the domicile, ending with a polite kick from behind, from which, like the Irishman, he gathered the hint that his company was not wanted.

"We are informed, however, that Watts is unwilling to accept this uncermonious proceeding as a settlement of his claim, and, as both husbands are said to have consulted the lawyers upon the matter, we may yet hear of the adjustment of the dispute in a more legal form!"

PARIS has grown malicious and ironical too in its slang, for the great lion has been the fat Mecklenburg woman, who possesses no other merit than that of being the sister-in-law of the servant of a wayside inn whose master played a merry trick upon the Prussian General just after the battle of Sadowa. Crowds gather round this woman, who has nothing remarkable in her appearance, being as homely and comfortable-looking a farm servant as one might wish to see. She has naught to do but pour out the Mecklenburg beer for the various amateurs who demand it; but her attraction does not lie here, but in the somewhat complicated relationship mentioned below. The Prussian General, at the head of his troops, was approaching a certain village, where he meant to bivouac for the night. The landlord of the little village inn dispatched a messenger to the town to bring back as many coffins as he could find ready-made to hand. By the time the General had arrived at the village, the order had been executed, and the coffins had been piled up against the inn door. "Good heavens! what is the meaning of all these coffins?" exclaimed the General, as he rode up to the spot. "Ah, your Excellency, the cholera is raging here, and people are dying off so fast that we are compelled to purchase coffins by the wholesale from the town." The General returned, untouched, the glass of beer he was about to take from the landlord's hand—he turned his horse's head, and galloped off without a word, and soon the scouts sent out by the townsfolk reported that the troops had been seen marching in quite another direction. Now, such is the state of sardonic sensibility into which Bismark and the Prussians have driven Frenchmen, that, as they cannot conveniently get hold of the King of Prussia himself, they vent their malicious glee upon the sister-in-law of the servant at the village inn who played the Prussian General this very funny trick.—[Paris correspondent Boston Post.

The Cure of Deformity.

The London Times, in commenting on a recent report of the Orthopædic Hospital of London, says that in no branch of surgical science has greater advance been made within our own time than in the treatment of cases of deformity. Byron pined and chafed under a deformity which might have been removed in his childhood if his parents had had advantages which, happily, may now be enjoyed by the most humble of the community. Sir Walter Scott, though less deformed than Byron, was also afflicted by a malformation of the foot, which marred his enjoyment of life, and of which the medical faculty of his time could not relieve him. Since vaccination has become the rule, there is a sensible diminution in the number of persons marked with small-pox; and among the young adults of the present day there are fewer cases of club-foot than were to be found in a similar portion of the population half a century ago. The old system of treating cases of club-foot was that of stretching the tendon Achilles, which stretches down the back of the led to the heel, by mechanical contrivances. It was sometimes successful; but in the majority of instances, especially when the patient has advanced beyond the age of infancy, the result was unsatisfactory. A few years ago the experiment of cutting the tendon was tried, and so successful was the result that this method is now generally adopted. When the case is treated in infancy, about twelve weeks generally suffice for a cure, if due attention is paid to the patient. After the tendon has been cut instruments are applied to keep the foot in the proper position, and as in this case "nature abhors a vacuum," the sinew is united by a new growth of tendon. It has been found that, up to the age of thirty, club-foot is more or less curable. The Orthopædic Hospital of London was founded to treat cases of this and other kinds of deformity, and since its establishment, in 1838, has afforded relief to 39,014 patients.

BE ON YOUR GUARD

Against the imitations and counterfeits of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, with which the PEDLARS who make POISONOUS LIQUORS, by preying upon the sick and suffering, are now endeavoring to flood the markets of this country. Whenever these POISON-MONGERS are discovered they are immediately prosecuted by the proprietors, who expend thousands of dollars annually in tracing them out and bringing them to justice. Within a short time injunctions have been obtained in the Courts of the United States against a number of individuals and firms, and suits are now in progress against several others, all of whom cases will be given to the public. But in spite of the utmost vigilance and activity of their detective agents, the undersigned are of course unable to protect the public entirely against piratical imitations of a Standard National Tonic, everywhere in request, and as highly serviceable into each as United States Bonds or Treasury Notes. They, therefore, as a measure of precaution, direct attention to the fact that a finely engraved label, representing St. George and the Dragon, and a beautiful cropped steel stamp, bearing the official name of the Government, appear on every bottle of the genuine BITTERS. The article is further authenticated by a miniature note of hand, with the signature of "Hostetter & Smith," to counterfeit, which is a state prison crime. The genuine BITTERS are sold in bottles only, and never in bulk. HOSTETTER & SMITH.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is of great value in all the bilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their natural tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been so much lauded. It is the best remedy extant to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first purchase a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen. Price, $1 per bottle. Sold by druggists and dealers generally. Office, 66 Fifth street, Pittsburgh. Depot, 160 Wood street. apl8

Brunot, Esq., Secretary, the President of the Company, Wm. Phillips, Esq., read for information an act of Assembly, on which the meeting was called to take action. The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the provisions of the act of Assembly entitled "an act to authorize the Allegheny Valley Railroad Co. to issue additional stock and bonds, and to repeal the act entitled "an act to authorize the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company to mortgage its road and branches to complete the same, and approved the 8th day of March, A. D. 1867," which act was approved the 11th day of April, 1867, be, and the same is hereby accepted and adopted.

The President, William Phillips, Esq., offered resolutions looking to the early completion of the road, which, on being discussed, passed unanimously.

Whereupon the stockholders proceeded to vote upon the resolutions by shares of stock, the result of which was, as announced by the tellers, Messrs. F. Rowley, Thomas Logan and William Simons:

For the Resolutions.....19,464 shares.
Opposed to the Resolutions.... 1,377 shares.

Majority in favor of Resolutions 18,087 shares. On motion adjourned.

Dwelling Burned in McClure.

Saturday forenoon about ten o'clock the dwelling house of Mr. W. D. McCallum, in McClure township, near the Passenger Railway terminus, took fire accidentally and was entirely destroyed. A son of Mr McCallum, aged about five years, went to the attic in search of some toys, and having matches, lighted one to aid him in his search. The flame communicated to some light clothing, when the little boy became alarmed, and ran down stairs, but in his high state of excitement was unable to make himself understood to members of the family as to what had happened. Very soon men at work in the neighborhood discovered smoke issuing from the attic windows, and gave the alarm, but the fire had obtained such headway that it was impossible with the means at hand to extinguish it. With the exception of clothing saved by the occurrence, the furniture was speedily removed from the house and thus saved. The dwelling, fire-proofed by Gen. Shedwell, Esq. The Hope steam fire engine was on the ground in due time, but no adequate supply of water being obtainable, could perform no service toward subduing the flames.

United States District Court.

Before Hon. Wilson McCandless.

On Saturday, District Attorney Carnahan filed a libel against ten barrels of whiskey, sold a few days since by Edwin R. Booz, of Philadelphia, to R. A. Carson, of Allegheny, for a less rate per gallon than the government tax. Under the act of Congress passed March 7, 1867, all whiskey sold at a less price than the tax of two dollars per gallon, is liable to seizure and forfeiture, such a transaction being deemed prima facia evidence that the tax has been evaded. The District Attorney therefore asks that the whiskey aforesaid be seized, condemned, and forfeited to the United States.

A decree was entered to be entered by Judge McCandless against six barrels of whiskey shipped by Charles Grove, of Columbia, Pa., to William Carr, of this city. The whiskey is forfeited, the government tax not having been paid.

Larceny as Bailee.

Ida Howard appeared before Alderman McMasters, of the Third ward, and made information against Elizabeth Reed, of Roberts street, Seventh ward, charging her with larceny as bailee. The prosecutrix had been boarding with the defendant and some time last week went into country, leaving her trunk with Mrs. R. intending to sent for it the next day. She alleges that on sending for the trunk, which contained clothing to the value of twenty dollars, the defendant refused to give it up. A warrant was issued and placed in officer Sharpe's hands.

Caught at Last.—Robert Biers, John Brewerston and Thomas Williams were on the 29th of last January charged before Alderman Morrow with malicious mischief, on the b of William McPherson, keeper of a livery stable. The prosecutor alleges in his information that the accused hired a horse from him and by reckless and malicious driving seriously injured him. A warrant was issued at the time, but the defendants managed to elude the officers until a few days ago, when Biers and Brewerton were arrested and held for a hearing on Saturday, when they were bound over in three hundred dollars bail each for their appearance at Court.

Fight over a Game of Cards.—John Sullivan made information before Alderman Morrow, against Daniel Flaherty, charging him with assault and battery. The affray occurred at Davis' Tavern, Four Mile Run, Oakland township, on 30th. The parties were engaged in a game of cards when Flaherty accused Sullivan with cheating. Sullivan replied by calling him a liar, which aroused Flaherty's "Irish" and a fight ensued, in which Sullivan came out second best. Warrants were issued and placed in officer Higby's hands.

Free Fight.—On Saturday night, about eleven o'clock, a fight occurred on Ohio street, Third ward, in which Thomas O'Neil and Donavon, two of the participants, were severely injured. O'Neil was stabbed in the left side with a dirk or stiletto. Donavon received a severe kick or cut which nearly severed the end of his nose from his face. Dr. D. monthly was called to dress the wounds of the parties. He says the wound of O'Neil is a severe one, but not necessarily fatal.

Arrival.—General O'Neil, of Fenian notoriety, arrived yesterday on the 2.15 train from the East. He was met at the depot by Dr. Donnelly, late surgeon in the Fenian army, and several other friends, and escorted in a carriage to the St. Charles Hotel. He will remain here till Wednesday, and will address the Fenian Brotherhood at Greenwood this afternoon.

Free and Pleasant Excursion to the great sale of lots at Sharpsburg, by the free excursion trains, which leave both the Western Penn'a R. R. Depot, Allegheny, and the Allegheny Valley Depot, Pittsburgh, at the same hour (9 o'clock) on Monday, the 3d inst. Free for all. See auction advertisement.

Withdrawn.—In the case of Jerome Jones vs. his wife, proceedings in divorce, the application for a trial by jury has been withdrawn, and Alderman E. S. Morrow appointed Commissioner with full power, &c.

The Loss in the city by fire during the month of May just passed was two hundred and seventy-five dollars; insurance fifty dollars.

Sanitary Measures.—On Saturday last Health Officer J. E. Williams appeared before Alderman Morrow and made information against Robert Montooth and Robert Lafferty, of the Eighth Ward, charging them with keeping a leaking cess pool on their premises. The parties were each fined five dollars and costs.

An Awning on Fifth street, in front of C. B. ume's music store, took fire on Saturday afternoon, and created some excitement. An individual gave the alarm from the nearest signal box, although the fire was extinguished with a few buckets of water ere the fire department steamers reached the spot.

Sent to the House of Refuge.—Henry Filson, charged, on oath of Julia A. Powell, with malicious mischief, before Alderman Butler, of the Sixth ward, was arrested on Friday evening and committed for a hearing on Saturday afternoon, which resulted in his being sent to the House of Refuge.

The Courts.—No business of general importance was transacted in either of the Courts on Saturday, it being the last day of the March term of the Quarter Sessions, a number of recognizances were forfeited.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, June 1, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 136⅝; Eighty-one bonds, 111½; Five Twenties, 1862, 109⅝; do 1864, 105¾; do 1865, 106⅝; 865 consols, 108; Ten Forties, 99⅝; Seven Thirties, 106¼@106⅝; Michigan Southern Railroad, 68¼; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 86; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, 96⅜; Erie, 59⅝; Chicago and Rock Island, 88¼; Chicago and Northwestern, 33¾; do preferred, 58¾; New York Central, 98⅝; Reading, 103¾.

Gold opened strong at 136⅝, but after the London quotations of Consols and Five Twenty bonds were known, it became weak at 136⅜, closed at 136¾ bid—market strong. Should English Consols keep at present quotations, 90¾, American securities will appreciate likewise, and with gold at 135, Five Twenties should sell at 74¼@74¾ at London; 79 at Frankfort, and about 83@83¼ at Paris. The present inactivity of business in England will keep down the rate of interest for some two or three months hence—thus we would be enabled to liquidate the balance of trade against us and what has to be made up for travelling purposes, with the sale of our bonds, until we could ship grain, shipping cereals, and the products of the soil.

The heavy gold balance in the Treasury will thus yield a higher profit than the sale of it and the interest invested in the calculation of bonds. European people are like ourselves, when they see a well filled purse they think the good credit good likewise. Government securities are steady. The share market is more lively at advanced prices. Money easier for good paper and collaterals. Miscellaneous securities not much in favor with monied men.

The Second National Bank of St. Louis, which has hitherto maintained a good reputation, is reported to be in a failing condition. Its drafts have gone to protest.

—The future in financial matters is a subject much solicitude, and a great diversity of opinion exists as to how a resumption of specie payments is to be reached and a sufficient amount of tax raised to meet the interest on the public debt, and the current demands on the Treasury. Many careful observers think it scarcely possible to escape the loss and destruction of labor and property attendant on the suppression of the rebellion without a financial crisis and a general revulsion in business. The experience of 1837 and 1857, when the country labored under a cheapened currency and large amounts of indebtedness, is given in illustration that, like evils, are to be got rid of now only in the same way—by a revulsion. The Financial Chronicle, considered by most persons as fair authority, argues that there is no reason to anticipate any trade revulsion this year, like those of 1837, 1847 and 1857. The money market is easy, capital abundant, the currency plentiful, the crop prospects full of promise, all classes of business are interested, and trade people and merchants generally out of debt and ready for anything, while the disbursements from the Treasury will be equal to the receipts. The average shipments to this country only fall short £400,000, and this is made up in cotton piece goods, which are reduced £400,000, and linen piece goods £463,000, and in woollens and worsteds £739,000, while railroad iron shows an increase of £223,000.

—The New York Independent of this week, says there is almost a holiday stillness in all departments of trade in the dry goods line. A few jobbing houses are moderately active, but the great majority are not doing enough to pay store expenses. This statement will apply alike to importers, commission houses, jobbers and retailers. The auction houses, however, were more active and rushing Holidays of merchandise, fearing lower prices in the fall, are now disposed to submit to the fixed cash, by the auctioneer's hammer, and make the best of it. The demand for staple goods has fallen off to so great an extent that only small lots of any fabric can be disposed of.

—The New York Tribune, of Friday, says: There is less activity in Seven Thirty notes of the August issue, which is now so much reduced that they will probably be wholly funded in June with bonds carrying three per cent. gold interest on the first of July. This extra gold interest will, it is understood, be continued up to July. The three per cent. certificates are now in the possession of Mr. Van Dyck, but will not be wanted until August, as the Department is ready to pay all the compounds maturing in June or July. An unsuccessful effort was made to produce "a scare" in money, by circulating reports of a temporary loan to be made by the Treasury. There is nothing in the condition of the finances to make such a report plausible.

—The large balance in the Sub Treasury is causing needless alarm. Much of the increase is only temporary, and will disappear as usual at the close of the month, when the accounts showing the purchases and conversions of the month are settled. On the 10th of June large payments will be made on the interest notes, for which the Department is no doubt preparing. The Secretary has nothing to gain by locking up large amounts of currency, and time will show that what now looks like hoarding is merely prudent preparation. Future debt statements will show a steady decrease in currency debts, from the ability of the Treasury to sell gold bonds as fast as compounds mature, and as fast as Seven Thirties can be bought up.—N. Y. Tribune.

Weekly Review of Wholesale Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 1.—There has been a panic in the flour market during the week and prices are $1.25 lower. It is difficult to ascertain the causes, as large prospective receipts of California flour and liberal arrivals at the Lake ports deter buyers. We notice great irregularity in the prices obtained for the different grades, and at the close the market was much unsettled. The flue prospect for the growing crops adds to the depression. The decline of flour is about 50 from the highest point. The Wheat market has been exceedingly depressed and a decline of 20@30c submitted to, which failed to stimulate the demand, and prices were altogether nominal at the close, large arrivals from Liverpool and California having depressed the markets. Oats fluctuated, then declined, and closed heavy; the stock, however, is moderate. Rye sold slowly and declined slightly, with the stock reduced. Corn very well sustained, especially choice new spring; new prepared to sell at the close; market heavy for all descriptions and prices somewhat nominal, the stock accumulating somewhat. Pork improved and more doing for forward delivery, but some reduction in the stock notwithstanding the liberal arrivals. Beef sold more freely; choice qualities closed very firm. Cut meats and bacon in good request and the stock of the latter somewhat reduced. Lard offered more freely and less favorable, owing to the news from Europe, but prices declined and closed heavy. RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with but little over eight feet in the channel by the Allegheny marks last evening. It rained during the greater part of yesterday, and it would not be surprising if we should have another freshet to-day or to-morrow.

The Armenia, from St. Louis, is the only transient arrival we have to report. She had a fair trip, including a considerable amount of pig metal, iron ore and hemp. The towboats Hyena, Hornet and Painter have arrived.

The Argosy left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Friday, and the Julia No. 2 was advertised to follow on Saturday. The Messenger, from New Orleans, arrived at Cincinnati on Saturday.

The Belle and Ida Rees cleared on Saturday, the former for Cincinnati, and the latter for Louisville, and they both had very good trips. The Belle is a very fast boat, and makes the time with but little difficulty, besides attending to all way business.

The Chieftan has taken the place of the Elector in the Peoples Line of the Pittsburgh and Brownsville Packet Company, and Capt. J. H. Hendrickson has succeeded Capt. Abrams in command of the former boat. The Elector, we presume, is undergoing repairs.

A private dispatch to Capt. James Rees, on Saturday, announces the sinking of the Nora in the Missouri river, one hundred and twenty miles above Omaha. The telegram gives no particulars, further than the water was up to her hurricane deck. The Nora was owned by Capts. Jas. Rees, Samuel Shuman, and others, was on her way to Fort Benton, was in command of Capt. James Shedden, and from all that we can learn, there was little or no insurance on her.

The Ida Rees No. 2 left for Oil City on Saturday evening, and the Echo and Urinda are the next boats due. The Allegheny River has been in navigable condition for steamboats going on four months, something remarkable, and something that has not occurred for over twenty years.

The Minnie, Capt. Shaw, is filling up steadily for St. Louis, and will be ready to take her departure to-morrow. The Importer is next in turn after the Minnie, and the Kate Putnam succeeds the Importer.

A New Orleans telegram to the Cincinnati Commercial gives the following details in regard to the explosion of the St. Marys:

The St. Mary's upright nigger driver exploded upward at the wharf, to-day, shattering the cabin, chimneys and breeches, slightly wounding four engineers, one cabin boy and five hands. The boiler descended through the Ruth's decks, lodging in the ladies' cabin. No one injured. The boat is repairing, and leaves on Monday. The officers, including Engineer Williamson, are all well.

The Wheeling Intelligencer, of Thursday, says the Quyan has been sold for $100,000, representing a railroad interest at Kansas City. The price paid was, we believe, $10,000.

Says the Cincinnati Commercial, of Friday, The following gleaners are laid up and awaiting business: Ohio No. 2, on the Way, and Gordon Era, Rob Roy, Golden Eagle, Alice Dean, Robert Burns, Pike King, C. Hines, Charleston, Emma No. 3, Hairy Bean, Peerless, Leclaire No. 2, America (sternwheel), at Dutton; two model barges at Litherbury's yard; new steamer building for Capt. Jack Oakes at Mack's mills, and two model barges and Captain Horton's new towboat at the Water Works. The General J. Torbert, formerly the steamer Commodore, is receiving an outfit at the foot of Lawrence street, and the Westmoreland, Pine Grove, Lizzie Rounsle, Champion, Starlight, Swallow, Era Porter, Wausaita and Armadillo at the Upper wharf.

Mr. Archy V. Stewart, Secretary of the Cincinnati and New Orleans Pilots' Association, received a despatch from Captain Jos. H. Williams, on Thursday, dated at New Orleans, 30th inst., announcing that the Nora had gone to pieces, and several lives lost. Captain Williams was one of her pilots, and states further that himself and partner, Oscar Whitten, are safe. The dispatch gives no further particulars. The St. Marys, together with the Indiana, arrived at New Orleans on the 29th inst., and had doubtless just left New Orleans on her return trip when the explosion occurred. The St. Marys was a new sidewheel freight steamer, completed at Wheeling a few weeks since, and owned, we believe, by Capt. Campbell Sweeney, and others, and was commanded by Captain Ben. F. Goodwin, Captain Campbell being in the office. She had made one trip to St. Louis, and thence to Evansville, when she loaded for New Orleans, and had made two trips to New Orleans from that point, and had made excellent time, remarkably quick time for a boat of her power. We await the details of the disagreeable accident with anxiety.

A severe storm occurred on the river near Evansville, Monday night. One of the papers there says:

The storm of Monday night was terrific on the river, and the Armada had the full benefit of it. As she was about landing at Mt. Vernon, the wind struck her aft the wheel, and in a moment she lay across the river, with the current on her beam's end. One guard was under water, and the water rushed through her engine room, adding fuel to the flame. Capt. Gus. Cox was compelled to go to the pilot house to have his orders heard amid the howlings of the storm. The sight of danger was appalling, and soon fool raised the alarm of fire, and a panic seized a portion of the passengers and crew. The officers, however, had a full control of the wind, and she righted and rode out the storm most gallantly. All the officers and crew represent the storm as the most fearful they ever experienced on the river.

Capt. J. B Ford, of New Albany, has contracted with Stewart & Barmore, at Jeffersonville, for a powerful towboat. Hull keel long, 26 feet beam, and 9½ feet deep. Engines, 7 feet strokes, 3 boilers 28 feet long and 42 inches in diameter, four flues each. He has also contracted for a large stern wheel boat, 180 feet long, 32 feet beam, and 8 feet hold, with a capacity of 800 tons each. The boat will be of medium power. It is the design of Capt. Ford to establish a regular barge line between Louisville, New Albany, Evansville and New Orleans.

Capt. Dryden telegraphs to the Cincinnati Commercial, under date of Thursday, as follows: Clear and pleasant. W 2 Wearing, with 6 feet 6 inches in the pass over the falls. The Antelope, Nightingale and Lenora No. 2 passed up. The following boats arrived from Pittsburgh: Neville Ellis, Dart, Kate Kearney, Warner, J. S. Neal. All returned to Pittsburgh. The Silver Moon and Amazon passed down up to the falls. The Lenora Low up to this time 93 coal boats and barges passed over the falls for the South. Business is very dull in the way of freights now.

The Lorena and Glendale were expected to arrive at St. Louis on Thursday night. The Democrat, of Friday, says:

Matters were quite lively on the wharf yesterday. One cause of excitement was the departure of the Phil Sheridan some distance behind the Seeskak packet. The Lorena left at last, but there were many ready to bet that the Phil would pass the wild highlander this side of Cairo. The Phil came behind her after all, with a good trip. The opposition of the Sheridan to the Northern line naturally excites considerable interest.

Capt. John Anawalt's Wild Duck and barges go down to-day to the iron pile to take on 800 tons of ore for Pittsburgh. Capt. Anawalt's enterprise is to be commended. It may be noted here that success has so far attended his efforts in the business of barge transportation, and that his prospects are excellent.

CONSUMPTION!

It would take a man a lifetime to read the treatises that have been written upon this important subject, and if a sick man were to attempt it he would make himself worse by the reading, and die before he got half through. The symptoms of the disease are, hacking cough, expectoration of matter or pus, pain in one or both lungs, chilliness, burning in the palms of the hands and soles of the feet, exhausting day night sweats, hectic fever, wasting of flesh or marasmus, sometimes expectoration of blood These are the usual outward symptoms, apparent not only to the observing physician, but to the patient's friends. There are, however, more important symptoms than these, which are only made manifest by auscultation and percussion, terms which mean, in a medical sense, thumping and listening, and they are employed out wardly in order to ascertain what is going on inside of the cavity of chest. The signs o symptoms elicited in this way are almost surely demonstrate the true and exact condition of th respiratory organs. A perfect auscultator can not fail in ascertaining whether the Lungs are acting naturally or not. Hence it is the best method of examining the lungs. Their actual condition once discovered, the appropriate treatment is more rapidly arrived at, and every diseased part more completely under the influence of appropriate remedies. We have long been of the opinion that consumption or decay, or wasting of the bodily strength, was dependent on a depraved state of the blood, which carries, in its course, tuberculous matter, and deposits it in the lungs, or elsewhere in the body, just as calculi or stone is deposited in the bladder, a small particle of which attracts other particles, until it becomes of such offense to the natural functions as to bring on inflammatory action, which action, if it could, would carry it out of the system, and which could have been easily done in the beginning of such disease. Dr. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP is a complete and perfect cure in the forming stage of lung disease. It acts on the very principle we have stated above, by enabling the securing or carrying off organs to do a double share of work. Waste and repair are easily comprehended, and if the worn out material be carried off, and the renewing material of a proper character, there must be health and ease, the contrary of sickness and dis-ease. In many cases of consumption which have become settled, Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup fails to cure, although it will do good a nearly all. He prepares a medicine called LUNG CURE or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE, which is a great tonic, and strengthens and restores the parts to be renewed, while it dissolves and carries out from the body thos particles of worn out or extraneous matter, which only tend to clog or destroy it, by hindering the renewing material being deposited in proper place.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondency, and knowing the general belief of the incurability of Consumption, and having heard of cures made by Dr. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisement in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." He told me th upper obe of my left lung was very much diseased. Yet he thought with great care and the perseverance in the use of his medicine, I would get well. At the time I called on Dr. Keyser my pulse was
